The Price Indices for October 2026

Consumer Price Index (CPI)

The CPI in October 2026 increased 0.06% from the preceding month, mainly because the index for garments rose 11.14% due to the launch of new autumn and winter clothing. In addition, hotel charges and package holidays increased due to greater number of holiday periods in October. However, the indices for electricity and vegetables fell 18.17% and 9.19%, respectively, partially offsetting the overall increase. The general CPI excluding fruits, vegetables and energy (core CPI) increased 0.54%.

The CPI in October 2026 increased 2.33% compared with the same month of 2025, mainly because the index for food away from home rose 3.01%, and the index for fuels and lubricants rose 15.17% due to developments in the Middle East and the low base from last year. Moreover, international air fares and package holidays increased. In addition, the indices for eggs, fish and seafood as well as residential rents rose 9.38%, 4.00% and 1.70%, respectively. The index for educational equipment and goods, such as computers, as well as mobile phones also increased. However, hotel charges decreased due to weekday domestic travel discount measures. Some service charges also decreased due to the high base, as the Mid-Autumn Festival was in October last year, offsetting part of the increase. The core CPI increased 2.23%.

For the first ten months of 2026, the CPI increased 1.98% over the same period of previous year. The indices for commodity and service moved up 1.52% and 2.41%. The core CPI increased 2.17%.

Producer Price Index (PPI)

The PPI in October 2026 rose 1.48% from the preceding month.

The PPI in October 2026, compared with the same month of 2025, rose 19.66%, mainly because the indices for gas supply, petroleum and coal products, computers, electronic and optical products, chemical material, other chemical products and pharmaceuticals as well as electronic parts and components rose 65.06%, 56.34%, 37.82%, 28.29% and 23.96%, respectively. However, the index for farm products fell 4.71%, offsetting part of the increase.

For the first ten months of 2026, the PPI rose 11.12% over the same period of previous year.

Import Price Index (IPI) on USD basis

The IPI in October 2026 rose 1.48% from the preceding month, and rose 26.72% compared with the same month of 2025.

For the first ten months of 2026, the IPI rose 15.22% over the same period of previous year.

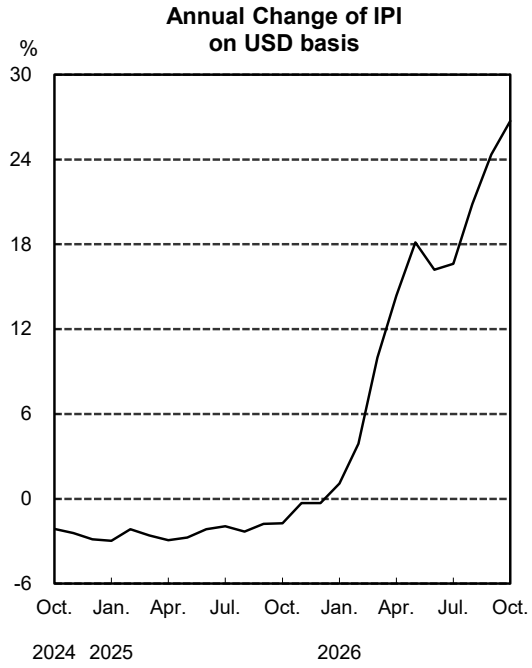

Export Price Index (EPI) on USD basis

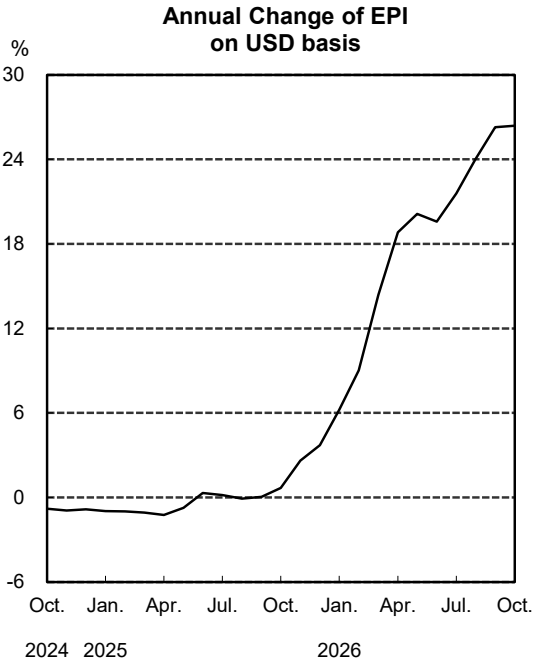

The EPI in October 2026 rose 0.49% from the preceding month, and rose 26.38% compared with the same month of 2025.

For the first ten months of 2026, the EPI rose 18.66% over the same period of previous year.
